DIBDIN, THOMAS FROGNALL. A Beautiful and Rare Collection of Dibdin's Important Bibliographical and other Works. Bound in tree calf, gilt edges, by Riviere.

449 ——— Bibliomania; or, Book Madness. A Biobliographical Romance in 6 parts. Illustrated with cuts. Improved edition, to which is added Preliminary Observations and a Supplement, including a Key to the assumed Characters in the Drama. Illustrated with vignettes, borders, initial letters, &c. Imperial 8vo. Lond. 1842

This, the third edition, is much superior to all others published. The work is of inestimable value to collectors, the amount of information given in the Copious Notes, of Books and Book Collectors, rare Books and their Values, is enormous.

450 ——— The Bibliographical Decameron; or, Ten Days' Pleasant Discourse upon Illuminated Manuscripts and Subjects connected with Early Engraving, Typography and Bibliography. Richly embellished with numerous fine portraits and plates, steel vignettes on India paper, wood engravings, fac-similes, etc. 3 vols., royal 8vo. Lond. 1817

The Decameron is a continuation of the Bibliomania, the same characters taking part in the conversations. Both the copper-plates and wood-cuts were destroyed by the author.

451 DIBDIN. Bibliotheca Spenceriana; or, a Descriptive Catalogue of the Books printed in the Fifteenth Century, and of many valuable first editions in the library of George John, Earl Spencer. With plates, fac-similes, wood engravings, &c. 4 vols., imperial 8vo. Lond. 1814

452 ——— Ædes Althorpianæ; or, An Account of the Mansion, Books and Pictures at Althrop, the Residence of George John, Earl Spencer. To which is added a Supplement to the Bibliotheca Spenceriana. Sumptuously illustrated with 33 portraits and plates, steel vignettes on India paper, and numerous wood engravings and fac-similes. 2 vols., imperial 8vo. Lond. 1822

453 ——— The Cassano Catalogue. A Descriptive Catalogue of the Books printed in the Fifteenth Century, lately forming part of the Libraries of the Duke di Cassano Serra, and now the property of George John, Earl Spencer. With a General Index of Authors and Editions in this Volume, and in the Bibliotheca Spenceriana and Ædes Althorpianæ. Imperial 8vo. Lond. 1823

"I have done everything in my power to establish on a firm foundation the celebrity of a library of which the remembrance can only perish with every other record of Individual fame."—DIBDIN.

454 ——— A Bibliographical, Antiquarian and Picturesque Tour in the Northern Counties of England and Scotland. Splendidly illustrated with wood engravings, 41 steel portraits and plates, and numerous exquisite steel vignettes. 2 vols., imperial 8vo. Lond. 1838

455 ——— A Bibliographical, Antiquarian and Picturesque Tour in France and Germany. With many illustrations (mostly on India paper), representing scenery, the inhabitants, portraits, ancient carvings, bindings, fac-similes of MSS., &c., and a series of groups by G. Lewis, representing the Physiognomy, Manners and Characters of the people of France and Germany. 5 vols., imperial 8vo. Lond. 1821

Usually bound in 3 vols., but in this instance the third volume is divided into two parts, with separate title pages, and the set has in addition the index volume which is often wanting.

This work contains much curious information respecting the MSS. and Rare Works in public and private libraries abroad, making it invaluable to the general collector. It is most costly on the score of embellishments, and was for the author the most perilous on that of responsibility, in which a traveler, relying on his own resources exclusively, was ever engaged. The money paid to engravers alone was nearly $20,000.

456 DIBDIN. Lettre Trentieme concernant l'Imprimerie et la Librarie de Paris. Traduite de l'Anglais, avec des notes par G. A. Crapelet, Imprimeur. 8vo. A Paris, 1821

A sharp criticism on Dibdin's work, which is answered in the book next described.

457 ——— A Roland for an Oliver, or brief Remarks upon the Preface and Notes of G. A. Crapelet, attached to his Translation of the Thirteenth Letter of the Bibliographical, Antiquarian and Picturesque Tour. By the author of that Tour. Lond.: Printed at the Shakespeare Press, 1821

Very rare; only 36 copies printed. The above is a presentation copy from the author, with autographic inscription.

458 ——— The Library Companion; or, the Young Man's Guide and the Old Man's Comfort in the choice of a library. 2 vols., imperial 8vo. LARGE PAPER COPY. Lond. 1824

This work contains much curious and important bibliographical information not elsewhere to be found, and will at all times be consulted as a work of reference by the bibliographer and historian.

459 ——— Typograpical Antiquities; or, The History of Printing in England, Scotland and Ireland. Containing Memoirs of our Ancient Printers, and a Register of the Books printed by them. Begun by Joseph Ames, considerably augmented by William Herbert, and greatly enlarged with Copious Notes by the Rev. T. F. Dibdin. Numerous fine portraits, plates and wood-cuts. 4 vols., 4to. Lond. 1810–19

Ames, the Literary Ironmonger of the XVIIth and XVIIIth Centuries, was the originator of this stupendous work. He had the advantage of the friendship of such men as John Anstis, Sir Henry Sloane, Lord Oxford, &c., and consequently the run of their libraries. Herbert next took up the subject upon Ames's decease; but it required the genius and enthusiasm of Dibdin to invest it with all the attractions it will be found to possess in its present form. He gave £42 for the manuscript, and forthwith devoted himself to the task of its improvement and completion, which lasted during ten years.

460 DIBDIN. Poems by. 8vo.
Lond.: Printed for the Author, 1797

"In the first edition of the Bibliomania is a curious note respecting these poems, from which it appears that 500 copies were printed, the major part of which were destroyed. 'My only consolation is' (says the author) 'that the volume is exceedingly rare.'"

461 ——— Bibliophobia. Remarks on the present Languid and Depressed State of Literature and the Book Trade. In a letter addressed to the Author of Bibliomania by Mercurius Rusticus. With notes by Cato Parvus. 8vo.
Lond. 1832

"Fear is the order of the day. To those very natural and long-established fears of bailiffs and tax-gatherers must now be added the fear of Reform, of Cholera and of BOOKS."—Page 6.

This is the first draft of the Revolt of Islam. "In this poem he had carried the expression of his opinions, moral, political and theological, beyond the bounds of discretion. The terror which in those days of persecution of the press, the perusal of the book inspired in Mr. Ollier, the publisher, induced him to solicit the alteration of many passages which he had marked. Shelley was for some time inflexible; but Mr. Ollier's refusal to publish the poem as it was, backed by the advice of all his friends, induced him to submit to the required changes. Many leaves were cancelled, and it was finally published as 'The Revolt of Islam.' Of 'Laon and Cythna' only three copies had gone forth. One of these had found its way to the Quarterly Review, and the opportunity was readily seized of pouring out on it one of the most malignant effusions of the odium theologicum that ever appeared even in those days, and in that periodical."—Fraser's Magazine, vol. lxi., p. 100.

In polished cherry colored frame, with gilt beading.

Very fine, curious and characteristic: being "ARTICLES OF AGREEMENT entered into this Third day of February in the Year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight between George Dolby, British subject, alias The Man of Ross, and James Ripley Osgood, American citizen, alias The Boston Bantam.

WHEREAS some Bounce having arisen between the above men in reference to feats of pedestrianism and agility, they have agreed to settle their differences and prove who is the better man by means of a walking match for the stake of four hats and the glory of their respective countries. . . . . The umpires and starters and declarers of victory in this match shall be James Fields, of Boston aforesaid, known in sporting circles as Massachusetts Jemmy and Charles Dickens of Falstaff's Gad's Hill . . . . . The Gad's Hill Gasper."

Then follow six "Articles of the Match," the last of which provides for dinner to be given by "The Gasper" on the evening of the match, to which, among others, were to be invited James Russell Lowell, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Mr. Aldrich and "an obscure poet named Longfellow."

The "Articles are solemnly and formally signed by Dickens, Dolby, Osgood and Fields."

Interesting. "I have at last had my interview with Lord Moira. . . . He told me he had every reason to expect that he could make use of the patronage of ministers at home . . . and that he would try to do something for me thro this channel. To all this I replied . . . that I begged he would not take the trouble of applying to Ministers for me, as I would rather struggle on as I am, than take any thing that would have the effect of tying up my tongue under such a system as the present . . . It is the prospect of honest independence you have opened to my view which has enabled me to speak in so manly and conscientious a tone. And now . . . to business." He speaks of the music for "The Minstrel Boy," &c., and signs "Ever your friend and partner."
